"STORIES ABOUT STARS"

Humorous and Serious Tales of the Ball Field

By BILLY EVANS.

SEVERAL players as a rule have more or less fun at the expense of the recruits. Some of the comedians are rather sensitive, however, and don't fancy very much being the target for the joking handed them from the older players. I was much amused at an incident that took place at the Polo grounds last year when one of the recruit twirlers on the New York team and Grover Land, then with the Naps.

The New York recruit was a southpaw and although he had a world of stuff, he was constantly in trouble because of his wildness. In one inning after hitting a man, walking a couple and unworking a few wild pitches, manager Chance decided that enough was plenty. He walked toward the center of the diamond to shoot the youngster under the cover of the bench. The recruit didn't fancy leaving the game. "What's the trouble?" asked the recruit, who has since passed on to the minors.
